YOU'RE INVITED to participate in the largest gathering of diabetes educators at AADE12, the American Association of Diabetes Educators (AADE) Annual Meeting & Exhibition, August 1–4, 2012 at the Indiana Convention Center in Indianapolis. From educational sessions, to exploring the exhibit hall, to networking with a unique assembly of colleagues, you're certain to return home with plenty of innovative ideas and information to improve patient care and invigorate your professional life.

This year's theme, "Power of Partnership," reinforces AADE's belief that diabetes self-care does not mean going at it alone. AADE12 will explore how empowerment and teamwork extends to everyone involved with diabetes education and care, from the patients themselves, to diabetes educators, to physicians and other healthcare professionals.

Packed with more than 90 dynamic sessions, fresh topics, up-to-the minute ideas, innovations and information, AADE12 is the premier diabetes education event of the year. Earn up to 25 CE credits and come away with the tools, knowledge and support you need to excel in your career and foster the health and wellness of your patients.

Be sure to join us in Indianapolis as we work together to advance ideas into action for improved quality of life for patients with diabetes and related conditions.

EXHIBIT HALL EVENTS

4 keys to a successful exhibition experience

- Look over the list of exhibitors before you arrive.
- Download the AADE App and map a route through the exhibits.
- Set a schedule.
- Take notes.

Emerging Technology Pavilion

Visit these 20-minute demonstrations to learn about the newest technologies from up-and-coming companies.

Culinary Demonstrations

Exhibitors will be demonstrating their healthy cooking options and sharing healthy recipe secrets with you. Learn food tips to pass along to your patients.

Passport Program

Back by popular demand. Visit participating exhibitor booths and receive a stamp on your game card (found in your attendee registration bag). After visiting all participating booths and filling the game card with stamps, submit it at the AADE booth and be entered in the daily drawing for some great prizes. The earlier you complete your Passport, the more chances you have to win! The Grand prize will be presented at Saturday's General Session.

Product Theatres

These unique sessions will present research findings on products, provide product details, offer demonstrations and highlight new products to meeting attendees. These sessions are open to all attendees. They are solely informational, and are not eligible for continuing education credit.

AADE Booth

The AADE Booth is your premier resource for new product and service demonstrations, special offers and more. Learn about member benefits, professional development opportunities, the AADE Diabetes Education Accreditation Program (DEAP), the BC-ADM examination, AADE's advocacy efforts, MY AADE NETWORK and AADE's latest initiatives. While there, visit the AADE Bookstore, where you can view products, demo online courses and receive special Annual Meeting discounted prices.

QUOTES FROM AADE11 ATTENDEES

I always come back with a list of 10 things I am going to implement or change in my program.

I learned SO much even though I have attended so many! You learn as much in the exhibit hall as in the classes.

The best conference I have ever been to in my 35 years of nursing.

» EARNING CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDIT

AADE12 attendees can earn up to 25 credits of continuing education hours based on sessions you participate in and the credentials you have.

Wednesday, August 1	6 CEs
Thursday, August 2	6 CEs
Friday, August 3	7 CEs
Saturday, August 4	6 CEs

To earn CE credit, you must attend the entire educational session and complete the online evaluation. A Statement of Credit reflecting hours attended at breakout sessions, workshops, corporate symposia and general sessions will be generated at the end of the process. Attendees will be able to complete evaluations and print the certificate on-site or at home.

Registered Nurses

The American Association of Diabetes Educators is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

This educational program will provide a maximum of 25 contact hours depending on sessions attended.

The American Association of Diabetes Educators is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing education by the California Board of Registered Nursing (CEP #10977).

Registered Dietitians*

The American Association of Diabetes Educators is a Continuing Professional Education (CPE) accredited provider with the Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR). Registered dietitians (RDs) and dietetic technicians, registered (DTRs), will receive a maximum of 25 hours continuing professional education units (CPEUs) for completion of these programs.

Pharmacists

The American Association of Diabetes Educators is accredited by the Accreditation Council of Pharmacy Education (ACPE) as a provider of continuing pharmacy education. This program provides for a maximum of 25 contact hours (2.5 CEUs), depending upon sessions attended. Universal Activity numbers to be available on website.

Physician Assistants

The AADE12 program is not yet approved for CME credit. Conference organizers plan to request 25 hours of AAPA Category I CME credit from the Physician Assistant Review Panel. Total numbers of approved credits are yet to be determined.

Nurse Practitioners

The AADE12 program will be submitted for continuing education credit to the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners.

Certified Diabetes Educators (CDE)

To satisfy the requirement for renewal of certification by continuing education activities must be diabetes-related and delivered by a provider on the NCBDE list of approved providers (www.ncbde.org). AADE is on the NCBDE's list of approved providers.

Board Certified Advanced Diabetes Management (BC-ADM)

AADE is the administering body for the Advanced Diabetes Management credential. Continuing education programs offered by AADE can be used toward fulfilling BC-ADM recertification requirements.

*Poster presentations and exhibit-viewing may offer additional hours of credit for registered dietitians.
