The Association of Diabetes Care & Education Specialists (ADCES) is activating the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) National Diabetes Prevention Program (National DPP) within underserved communities through in-person, distance learning and online delivery modes. Through a 5-year cooperative agreement (DP17-1705), ADCES is increasing access and availability to the National DPP lifestyle change program to specific priority populations at high risk for developing type 2 diabetes.

To learn more about this cooperative agreement or how organizations can get involved, visit: https://www.diabeteseducator.org/expandingDPP

This resource was supported by Cooperative Agreement, Number 17NU58DP006361-01-00 from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Its contents are solely the responsibility of the authors.